Dr Tobias Pincock, one of the country's leading ENT (Ear, Nose, Throat) and Facial Plastic Surgeons, appreciates natural beauty.

When discussing the latest advancements in facial cosmetic surgery, Dr Pincock insists that "the best result is a natural one." His refreshing philosophy and extensive international training in plastic and cosmetic surgery of the face, head and neck, as well as training in facial reconstructive surgery, and craniofacial trauma reconstruction mean that patients can expect an honest and highly skilled approach.

"I offer people an alternative to looking like they've had something done," he says. "I appreciate a softer, more modern aesthetic and encourage non-invasive procedures earlier, rather than cosmetic surgery later," he says.

Offering a selection of treatment options that range from injectables, such as Botox and fillers, through to skin resurfacing and cosmetic and reconstructive surgery, Dr Pincock is a 'sub-specialist' in facial plastics, which means that he only operates above the neck. He recently spent 12 months in the United States completing a fellowship in facial plastic surgery through the American Academy of Facial Plastic and Reconstructive Surgery in order to further advance his expertise in this delicate and specific area of medicine.

"You only get one chance with your face," Dr Pincock says. "You're not going to throw your silk dress in the dryer are you? The same goes with your face; it's precious and unique, and requires the utmost skill."

Offering thorough consultation, including the option of computer imaging, Dr Pincock's patients are in the hands of a doctor who has unmatched qualifications in his area of specialty, and one who strives to achieve subtle, natural and believable results with the utmost ethical care and professional integrity.

1 The procedures available include injectables, such as Botox and fillers, through to skin resurfacing and facial cosmetic reconstructive surgery.
